

Run away, run away
I was in-between a moment and the next
Searchin' for the best
Couldn't wait, couldn't wait
I was busy gettin' over where I'd been
And take what's comin' in

And I wonder, am I good enough?
Am I strong enough or old enough for this?
And then it hits you hard in the chest
It doesn't really mean a thing right now, it's

It's when they tell you that it's serious, it all starts flashi
n' by
And you suddenly realize you're outta control
Oh, how I wish that we were anywhere else but in the clouds
When life comes crashin' down
I fall into blue, blue, blue, blue, blue
Blue, blue, blue, blue, blue, blue

Run away, run away
Nothin' else to do than put it in a box
Pretend that we've moved on

And I wonder, am I good enough?
Am I strong enough or old enough for this?
And then it hits you hard in the chest
It doesn't really mean a thing right now, it's

It's when they tell you that it's serious, it all starts flashi
n' by
And you suddenly realize you're outta control
Oh, how I wish that we were anywhere else but in the clouds
When life comes crashin' down
Blue, blue, blue, blue, blue
