Dancer

Sigrid

Is it painted on my face?
'Cause you won't look away
I've put up a barricade all my life
Life- I

I feel vulnerable
'Cause you're breaking down my walls
Like it's, some kind of sport
That you like, like- I

When I close my eyes
I'm not scared at all
It feels like I've been waiting to surrender
I've waited all my life, now I fall
Like it's easy to fall
When you know how to move me like a dancer
And I don't wanna hide

Wake up and I reach
For you, so naturally
I'm in a technicolor dream
Every day and night- I

When I close my eyes
I'm not scared at all
It feels like I've been waiting to surrender
I've waited all my life, now I fall
Like it's easy to fall
When you know how to move me like a dancer
And I don't wanna hide

'Cause I've finally started living
And I'm right at home in your embrace

Now the universe is spinning
Getting higher every step we take

But I'm not scared at all
It feels like I've been waiting to surrender
I've waited all my life, now I fall
Like it's easy to fall
When you know how to move me like a dancer
I hide
