

Mirror

Sigrid

There was an emptiness
I think you met me at a strange time and you anchored me
I felt anonymous
And you were someone who reminded me who I used to be

It had to break
I had to go
'Cause it took me walking away to really know

I love who I see
Looking at me in the mirror, in the mirror
Nothing compares
To the feeling right there in the mirror, in the mirror

I needed loneliness
To know there's nothing that I can't turn into confidence
I couldn't play pretend
And I'm sorry that you had to pay the consequences, oh no

It had to break
I had to go
'Cause it took me walking away to really know

I love who I see
Looking at me in the mirror, in the mirror
Nothing compares
To the feeling right there in the mirror, in the mirror

And I, I-I-I
I-I just fell in love with the person in the mirror
And I, I-I-I
I-I just fell in love with the person in the mirror

But I love who I see
Looking at me in the mirror, in the mirror
Nothing compares
To the feeling right there in the mirror, in the mirror

I love who I see
Looking at me in the mirror, in the mirror
Nothing compares

And I, I-I-I
I-I just fell in love with the person in the mirror
And I, I-I-I
I-I just fell in love with the person in the mirror
