

Dying Young

Silence 4

Everything is worth while
I regret the times I didn't spend
Watching the flowers grow

It doesn't seem to matter
Anymore who's up or who's loosing
And my children look so strange

My hopes died along with happiness
Simplicity has become so complicated
From this point on it's down

Our problems start when we don't die young