

Dreamwalker

Silent Planet

Count me down to a reverie

Dreamwalker

Breaking at the sound until you spiral down, slipping into liminal spaces

Dreamwalker

Breaking at the sound until you spiral down, slipping into

Distorted coordinates revolving on a tape recorder

Voices drawing me deeper

As I watch the walls come alive

Synchronized with the seizing lights

My eyes turn white

I leave this world behind

Bleed out the future

Swept away by the stars

Bleed out the future

Empty in the paradox

I tore a hole in the fabric of time

I split forever just to find

Where the light bends between our eyes

Black hole at the center

I think we're made to fall apart

Desynchronized my mind diverges to disparate times

Polarizing a portal, emerging from the abyss

Summoning the beast, ever-growing need, tearing at the seams

Climbing through the burning body of a fever dream

Summoning the beast, ever-growing need, tearing at the seams

Climbing through the blistered body of a fever dream

"How I long to feed on the atrophy

To bring singularity

To swallow their pulsing light

Take us back to the night"

Bleed out the future

Swept away by the stars

Bleed out the future

Empty in the paradox

Bleed out the future

Swept away by the stars

Bleed out the future

Empty in the paradox

I tore a hole in the fabric of time

Just to bring you home

Our bodies caught between dimensions, tangled branches crystallize

We suffocate beneath the weight of reality denied, and all the darkness comes alive

I still feel you on the other side

I refuse to say goodbye

Bleed out the future
Bleed out the future
