

To My Beloved One

Silentium

"How could I even speak of love, my dear, before I held ye in the arms of mine?..."

In thy beloved arms
I 'll drown myself to rest
And upon your ivory skin
My dreams will softly drift

No sweeter touch
From the angels wing
As the tender kiss
Yer lips gave to me

In thy beloved arms,
My dear
I 'll drown
My deepest fear

And as we watch
The sun pass a sleep
Nay sound from the forest,
Just a tender weep

Here, my beloved one
Here is my heaven
Angel beside me
And her eyes to drown in

In thy beloved arms, my dear
I kin I can't forever be
But this moment, how short the time could be
It is forever, a sweet infinity to me
