The Valley

Silver End

I've been everywhere
I thought I had everything planned
Somewhere
The blueprint got out of my hand
And there you stand
I've written now and then
When everything else where standing still
Far from land
All hope was fading until
You came around
Now you're home
Now you're home
Never forget you are never alone
I will watch over you
When you fear the unknown
I'm right here
Taking you home
Where you belong
You are safe with me
I'll carry you home if I must
On my knees
I'll offer a bond you can trust
Believe in me
Never forget you are never alone
I will watch over you
When you fear the unknown
I have fallen
Hopeless I'm waiting
For you
To come back to me
Coming back
Loosing my balance
It's hard to accept
To fall for someone you've just met
But it's true what they're saying
I'm craving for more
I'm better than I was before
You came home
Ooh I want you
To come back to me
Coming back home, come to me
Now you're finally home
Never forget you are never alone
I will watch over you
When you fear the unknown
I'm right here
Taking you home
Where you belong
