

Confession

Silverstein

I wish I could lose my mind
Forget you were ever in my life
Think of a reason
That I could believe in
Take it too far then bite your tongue
Cut me open then sew me shut
You were the savior
Holding the razor

Call this my confession
'Cause you should know the truth
You should know the truth
I let my obsession
Keep me running back to you
Keep me running back to you

How many days
How many nights
How did I stay
So many more times
I wish I was stronger
'Cause I knew from the start
We're just putting bullets
In already broken hearts

You're the ocean, the undertow
You're the drug that won't let me go
You're pulling me under
You're pulling me under
All the things that we tell ourselves
Both pretending we're not in hell
I wanna hate you now
But I don't know how

Call this my confession
'Cause you should know the truth
You should know the truth
I let my obsession
Keep me running back to you
Keep me running back to you

How many days
How many nights
How did I stay
So many more times
I wish I was stronger
'Cause I knew from the start
We're just putting bullets
In already broken hearts

Call this my confession
'Cause you should know the truth
I let my obsession
Running back to you

How many days
How did I stay
So many more times
I wish I was stronger (stronger)

Broken hearts
Running back to you
Running back to you
