

Dying Game

Silverstein

When the sand runs out in the hourglass
I'll be nothing but a ghost
This is my testament, my final words
The last song that I wrote

Ooh, we laughed till we cried
It's over, but at least we came along for the ride
You can leave me behind
I'm sorry if I didn't get to tell you goodbye

It's my dying game, I hope you remember
The way that I made you remember me
My dying game, I hope you remember
The way that I made you remember me

When the floor drops out beneath my feet
I'll fall through with a smile
Won't be an encore for the audience
Hope the show was worth the while

Ooh, we laughed till we cried
I'm sorry if I didn't get to tell you goodbye

It's my dying game, I hope you remember
The way that I made you remember me
My dying game, I hope you remember
The way that I made you remember me
Remember me

When I'm a memory
Will you remember me?
When I'm a memory
Will you remember me?
