

Showed up, shot down, same day
Deep breaths, short steps, same way
Your house I know it's okay
I left but I wish I had
Stayed up, slow down, it's too late
I still had more to say
How much could my words weigh?
I left but I wish I had
Stayed the night, the night, the night, the night

A little bit broken I'm not the only one
A little bit desperate I'm not the only one
I've got a feeling that you feel the same
We got a sickness and we know its name
A little bit broken I'm not the only one

Old glass, new scene, same face
Bad blood, deep cut, same place
I just wanna be okay
You left but I wish you had Stayed here, I can't see straight
I need to hear you say
We caused this hurricane
We're gone but I wish we had
Stayed the night, the night, the night, the night

A little bit broken I'm not the only one
A little bit desperate I'm not the only one
I've got a feeling that you feel the same
We got a sickness and we know its name
A little bit broken I'm not the only one

And in this moment, I need the past
You burned the bridge, I built a home in the ashes
Why should I forgive you?
It's been a long night, I've had enough
I made my bed in the dirt and the dust
I swear I never meant to Stay the night, the night, the night, the night

A little bit broken I'm not the only one
A little bit desperate I'm not the only one
I've got a feeling that you feel the same
We got a sickness and we know its name
A little bit broken I'm not the only one

I'm broken but I'm not the only one
