Stop

Silverstein

Feels like you're living in my head now
A tidal wave through a ghost town
My vision blurring like a watercolour
I'm washed out now, I'm washed out

Is there something I can do now?
It's like I'm singing out of tune now
Just trying to keep my head above it all
It's no use now, I'm washed out

I thought that I'd escape
But I never really had a shot
I thought that I could shake it
But I know that it's never gonna

Stop until my heartbeat does
Can't remember who I was
Before you came through
And I know that it's never gonna (stop)

I think I've gone over the edge
Is this as bad as it's gonna get?
I think I'll drown in my own regret
It's no use now, it's never gonna

Stop until my heartbeat does
Can't remember who I was
Before you came through
And I know that it's never gonna

Stop until my lungs give up
Never thought I'd self destruct
Before you came through
And I know that it's never gonna (stop)

I thought that I'd escape
But I never really had a shot
I thought that I could shake it
But I know that it's never gonna

It's a beautiful place to drown
Last breath is a constellation
No light gets this far down
And I know that it's never gonna

Stop until my heartbeat does
Can't remember who I was
Before you came through
And I know that it's never gonna

Stop until my heartbeat does
Can't remember who I was
Before you came through
And I know that it's never gonna

Stop until my lungs give up
Never thought I'd self destruct

Before you came through
And I know that it's never gonna (stop)

I thought that I'd escape
But I never really had a shot
I thought that I could shake it
But I know that it's never gonna
