

Hereafter (Way After)

Silversun Pickups

Now you gotta pick up all the pieces off the floor
And dance right along to music that you tried to ignore
Every second feeling like a Sunday afternoon
When light passes by as shadows move across the room

Will we ever be alone again hereafter
Will we ever find home again way after hereafter

The neighbors come alive and start the knocking at the door
The turning of the tide there for you to claim your reward
Meditate to noise that you've heard a million times
Breathe the unknown or stay tucked away inside

Where is everyone going to be hereafter
What is everyone going to see way after hereafter
Do you wanna be alone with me hereafter
Do you wanna stay home with me way after hereafter

What now
We hear them coming out
Oh how
We need them coming out

Now you see the sun and it's blistering your skin
Listen to the songs of whispering traumatic winds
If everything you love can be swallowed by the sand
Will you turn around and see me stand the best I can

Will we ever be alone again hereafter
Will we ever find home again way after hereafter
Do you wanna be alone with me hereafter
Do you wanna stay home with me way after hereafter
Way after
