Devil's Daughter

Hell of an angel Skin that shines like pearl Eyes that make your soul bleed Innocent and sweet Your friends surely agree Like candy she's a real treat But sugar's far from calm I don't mean to alarm By the time you blink The shit kicks in

I'm walkin' up the stairs My heart's beating fast Following her legs To her thighs To her yeah, yeah, yeah

I went to bed with an angel At least that's what she said But as she tore off her dress Lord I must confess I got the devil's daughter I got the devil's daughter in my bed

Like a knife at my throat I like the way that she gropes Her curves make my blood swim my veins Her pain comes in doses Till you're one step closer Then you're completely insane Hung by a halo and stabbed by horns Then she'll tell you they're both the same

I'm walkin' up the stairs My heart's beating fast Following her legs To her thighs To her yeah, yeah, yeah

I went to bed with an angel At least that's what she said But as she tore off her dress Lord I must confess I got the devil's daughter I got the devil's daughter in my bed Silvertide
