IKAROS

SiM

my life is complicated, my brain is gone and faded if I had a chance to make it, I'll do whatever to bring you dow n
"son, this is not the solution..."

just close your eyes, imagine that you're flying through the air try not to deny, try not to say that life is unfair some day you will understand now I'm flying through the air sun is shining but I'm not scared watch me, now I'm flying to the sun!

but then tide is turning he never thought his wings are burning fell into the ground without a sound do you wish if only you got wings on your back you can be something like falcons? in the end, you must die as you are no way to change the form of our skeleton if everyone went in the same direction following them is not always the right decision to get to the destination you gotta leave it to your sensation he failed in life...

now I'm flying through the air sun is shining but not so scared
watch me, now I'm flying to the sun
but then tide is turning
fell into the ground...

I'm sorry for your broken wings, it's a tragedy but how were you going to control your destiny?
I think you deserved it, you're the only one who's wondering it
"Sono te de furete kako mo saratte chiri hitotsu nokosazu keser u no nara"
but you know it's impossible don't feel miserable no one can erase their trail
