

In the Rain

SiM

I'm sick of everything around me
Stupid announcer tells the news alone
It doesn't matter if some people kill themselves
Without umbrella, walking with that song

In the rain, I think of you again and again
Like that song, I do nothing but think of you
In the rain, I think of you again and again
I hate to say good bye

I thought I know, everything about you
But she knew this shallow thought is wrong
Would she change her mind by the time rain stops
Under the gray sky, walking with that song

In the rain, I think of you again and again
Like that song, I do nothing but think of you
In the rain, I think of you again and again
I hate to say good bye

If I could erase myself
Why can't I break my shell

In the rain
I think of you again and again
In the rain, like that song
I do nothing but think of you
In the rain
I think of you again and again
I hate to say it again
But I would say "good bye"
