

Broken

Simon Curtis

(All you've done to me
As long as I can see
All you've done to me
Is left me standing here shattered into pieces...)

Ooh ba dub bub
Ooh ba dub
Ooh ba dub bub
Ooh ba ba da

Broken

I want a simple explanation
For my incapacitation since You departed
I need a kind of reparation
'Cause my social inclination is Now so guarded
I gave my world to you
And only wanted the truth
But since all of it's through
I see that none of it mattered

Don't stand there and look at me
And tell me that you wanna be friends
When you know that we're not
I learned the truth from words unspoken
Did you think I wouldn't know?
Did you think I wouldn't show
To the world all the scars and the pain?
And now I'm broken

Ignore your secret little wishes
That we're not all that suspicious
When seen in hindsight
Devoid of all of the malicious
And a little bit of vicious
When you hit me blind-side
And now I can't move on
Although I know that you're gone
And though I try to be strong
I'm still in pieces shattered

Don't stand there and look at me
And tell me that you wanna be friends
When you know that we're not
I learned the truth from words unspoken
Did you think I wouldn't know?
Did you think I wouldn't show
To the world all the scars and the pain?
And now I'm broken

You're leaving, deceiving
And I don't know the reason
And I don't quite believe it
But the lies can't conceal it
I see it, I feel it
And my heart is still reeling
And I can't start the healing

'Cause I'm shattered in two

Don't stand there and look at me
And tell me that you wanna be friends
When you know that we're not
I learned the truth from words unspoken
Did you think I wouldn't know?
Did you think I wouldn't show
To the world all the scars and the pain?
And now I'm broken

Stand there and look at me
And tell me that you wanna be friends
When you know that we're not
I learned the truth from words unspoken
Did you think I wouldn't know?
Did you think I wouldn't show
To the world all the scars and the pain?
And now I'm broken

Don't stand there and look at me
And tell me that you wanna be friends
When you know that we're not
I learned the truth from words unspoken
Did you think I wouldn't know?
Did you think I wouldn't show
To the world all the scars and the pain?
And now I'm broken
