

Candy Store

Simon Curtis

Appetizing, a salivating savor
Tantalizing, to contemplate your flavor
Ever craving for something kind of sweet?
Sweaty, salty, and also indiscreet
So inviting, I'm peeling the wrapper
Perfect timing, no need to go faster
Prepare to taste, may I try
May I try you this time?
You're in the place where the flavor is so divine

I can't help myself
I'm like a kid in a candy store
You give me a little
And I always try to take a little
More, more, more, more
I can't contain myself inside your candy store

Slowly falling from one intense sugar high
So appalling to customers passing by Decadence is only the beginning
Baddest taste so good, it must be sinning
Feel the perk, coming out deep in you
Used to jerk, now I really don't need to
Off the shelf, pull me down, pour it down on me now
Release yourself, I'd be happy to show you how

I can't help myself
I'm like a kid in a candy store
You give me a little
And I always try to take a little
More, more, more, more
I can't contain myself inside your candy store

Let me inside your sugar wall
Oh, oh, oh, oh

I can't help myself
I'm like a kid in a candy store (Oh-oh)
(Ye-yeah~) You give me a little
And I always try to take a little
More, more, more, more
I can't contain myself inside your candy store

I can't help myself
I'm like a kid in a candy store
You give me a little
And I always try to take a little
More, more, more, more
I can't contain myself inside your candy store

I can't help myself
I'm like a kid in a candy store
You give me a little
And I always try to take a little
More, more, more, more
I can't contain myself inside your candy store
