Halo

Simon Curtis

I think I'm coming out now solo
I've always been a good guy, although
I'm through with being me that they know
Tonight I'm hanging up my halo

Like a little angel, I was fine
I was so well behaved
And all the time, you were mine
But I made a mistake
And I was good, though I could give you
Above the light
I know you would say you should get
Now you might won't deny

Don't leave me, please, don't go
That's what I've said for so long
I'm leaving on my own
No regard for what might be wrong

I think I'm coming out now solo
I've always been a good guy, although
I'm though with being me that they know
Tonight I'm hanging up my halo
I think I'm coming out now solo
I've always been a good guy, although
I'm though with being me that they know
Tonight I'm hanging up my halo

Communion never could save those who get drunk on the wine
Not to praise or to pray
I'm taking back what was mine
I'm sick and tired of trying to hide both of the horns in my head
It's got me wired up
And find the, find the blood that I've bled

Don't leave me, please, don't go
That's what I've said for so long
I'm leaving on my own
No regard for what might be wrong

I think I'm coming out now solo
I've always been a good guy, although
I'm though with being me that they know
Tonight I'm hanging up my halo
I think I'm coming out now solo
I've always been a good guy, although
I'm though with being me that they know
Tonight I'm hanging up my halo

The broken wings of an angel I will never show
Tonight I'm hanging up my halo

I think I'm coming out now solo
I've always been a good guy, although
I'm though with being me that they know
Tonight I'm hanging up my halo

I think I'm coming out now solo
(Don't leave me, please, don't go)
I've always been a good guy, although
(That's what I've said for so long)
I'm though with being me that they know
(I'm leaving on my own)
Tonight I'm hanging up my halo
(No regard for what might be wrong)

I think I'm coming out now solo
(Don't leave me, please, don't go)
I've always been a good guy, although
(That's what I've said for so long)
I'm though with being me that they know
(I'm leaving on my own)
Tonight I'm hanging up my halo
(No regard for what might be wrong)

I think I'm coming out now solo
I've always been a good guy, although
I'm though with being me that they know
Tonight I'm hanging up my halo
