

How To Live

Simple Creatures

Guess I'm sleeping over after all
Something dark and something beautiful
But I wanna tell you how to love
You only hate, you don't know when to quit
I guess we're not so different after all

Never enough, taking the world off your shoulders
It's never enough, taking our demons to bed
I don't wanna tell you how to live
I don't wanna tell you how to live your life
But maybe we just don't know when to quit
Maybe we just don't know when to quit the life

I could feel a lifetime with love that I left behind
It's hard to unravel, our bodies are so intertwined
But maybe there's nothing left to say
You're just the grass on a stranger's grave
And I'm still ashamed of the wreckage I left in your life

Never enough, taking the world off your shoulders
It's never enough, taking our demons to bed
I don't wanna tell you how to live
I don't wanna tell you how to live your life
But maybe we just don't know when to quit
Maybe we just don't know when to quit the life

Never enough, taking the world off your shoulders
It's never enough, taking our demons to bed

(Oh-oh-oh
Some days you're crashing like a wave around me
Oh-oh-oh
Some days you pull me underneath and drown me)

Guess we're not so perfect after all
Something dark and something beautiful

Never enough, taking the world off your shoulders
It's never enough, taking our demons to bed
I don't wanna tell you how to live
I don't wanna tell you how to live your life
But maybe we just don't know when to quit
Maybe we just don't know when to quit, yeah

Never enough, taking the world off your shoulders
It's never enough, taking our demons to bed

(Oh-oh-oh
Some days you're crashing like a wave around me
Oh-oh-oh
Some days you pull me underneath and drown me)
