

I dug through a graveyard of empty bottles and missing pieces
Searching for redemption in dirt and debris to find the reason
Everything is awful, but it's only in my brain
The vodka must be broken 'cause I don't feel anything

My mind is playing tricks again
And only you can fix this
You don't answer when I call at night
Forgot how much I missed this

I've been, I've been, crying, crying wolf so long
It's hard to believe me anymore
I've been, I've been, dying, dying for ya
But you were never mine, so good night and never mind
You were never mine so good night and never mind
You were never mine so good night and never mind

Flipping through old pages of lyrics I wrote to find the answer
Locked myself away in hotel rooms while I'm on tour in Paris
You're stuck in the moment while I'm stuck on yesterday
I'd give you forever, but you'd give it all away

My mind is playing tricks again
And only you can fix this
You don't answer when I call at night
Forgot how much I missed this

I've been, I've been, crying, crying wolf so long
It's hard to believe me anymore
I've been, I've been, dying, dying for ya
But you were never mine, so good night and never mind
You were never mine so good night and never mind
You were never mine so good night and never mind

I came home to a Dear John note
Saying you lost hope and I'm never gonna get you back
You said goodbye in the nick of time
So don't ask why, but you're never gonna get me back

I've been, I've been, crying, crying wolf so long
It's hard to believe me anymore
I've been, I've been, dying, dying for ya
But you were never mine, so good night and never mind
You were never mine so good night and never mind
You were never mine so good night and never mind

I came home to a Dear John note
Saying you lost hope and I'm never gonna get you back
You said goodbye in the nick of time
So don't ask why, but you're never gonna get me back
