

Earth in a Lonely Space

Simply Red

We're Earth in a lonely space
Too far to say hello
And ever expanding
Earth in a lonely space
There's more to explore on the inside
Instead of running off
And ruining the outside

Until a new World has dawned
This is all we have
And I can't say much more
Much brighter than that

So look at what you have
And try to make it brighter
Look at what you have
And try to make it brighter
Look at your heavy load
And try to make it lighter
Ah oh...

Earth is a lonely place
Lost from who you know
And love's understanding
Earth is a lonely space
Hurting and burning on the inside
While being perfectly normal
On the outside

Until a new day has dawned
This is all we have
And I can't say much more
Much brighter than that

So look at what you have
And try to make it brighter
Look at what you have
And try to make it brighter
Look at what you have
And try to make it brighter
Look at your heavy load
And try to make it lighter
Ah oh...

Look at what you have
And try to make it brighter
Look at what you have
Look at your heavy load
Ah oh...
