

A New Day

Sinamore

Waiting for a new day
Reliving my thoughts alone
At the gates of garden
Where the joy have never shown
Since I've known...

I close my eyes
And let your voice lead me tonight
Black painted view
I see the river flows your cry

Since I've known
I have carried the pain all within
Since I've known
My mind have been painted with sin
Since I've known

Waiting for tomorrow frail
I need to paint my sorrows away
To find another path into my scars
Waiting for tomorrow frail
I need to paint my sorrows away
You bring me the light for my life

I turn off lights to create the darkness of my own
The evil inside me is growing so strong
That I have to let go

Waiting for tomorrow frail
I need to paint my sorrows away
To find another path into my scars
Waiting for tomorrow frail
I need to paint my sorrows away
You bring me the light for my life
