

Everything

Since October

Someone told me to believe
In only what I can see
And only you have taught me to think differently
I never dreamed that you would walk away and leave
So now it seems that nothing ever comes for free

And Ive done everything
To live inside your world
But youve done everything
To break me down, shut me out (say you will)
And Ive done everything
To try and make this last
But will you ever change?

Just to see you smile
Would erase every time you lied
My own denial is the only thing Ive got on my side
I know that youre gone
But I cant say I havent tried
It seems so wrong
For you to run away and hide

And Ive done everything

To live inside your world
But youve done everything
To break me down, shut me out (say you will)
And Ive done everything
To try and make this last
But will you ever change?

(I live for you
For you)

And Ive done everything
To live inside your world
But youve done everything
To break me down, shut me out (say you will)
And Ive done everything
To try and make this last
But will you ever change? (say you will)

And Ive done everything
To live inside your world
But youve done everything
To break me down, shut me out (say you will)
And Ive done everything
To try and make this last
But will you ever change?