

Anemia

Sincere Engineer

I'm a walking open wound
Don't make any sudden moves
I'm a walking open wound
It's a pleasure to meet you

The blood loss
My head is spinning round and round into oblivion
Birds are circling. It spit me out the other end
I get up, I dust myself off, I don't know anybody here
I feel out of place but you're just my type
I don't know what to say

I'm a walking open wound
Don't make any sudden moves
I'm a walking open wound
It's a pleasure to meet you

I'm a walking open wound
Don't make any sudden moves
I'm a walking open wound
It's a pleasure to meet you

A blood clot
I was falling for you pretty quick and it was obvious
I try to talk to you but above my head I'm seeing stars again
I pull up, we're at this party, you're already drunk, it's clear
I feel out of place everywhere I go
I don't know what to say

I'm a walking open wound
Don't make any sudden moves
I'm a walking open wound
It's a pleasure to meet you

I'm a walking open wound
Don't make any sudden moves
I'm a walking open wound
It's a pleasure to meet you

Anemia, my blood runs cold
Anemia, I'm such an asshole
Anemia, there's things about me you don't know
Anemia, I should probably just go

Anemia, there's things about me you don't know
Anemia, I should probably just go

Anemia, my blood runs cold
Anemia, I'm such an asshole
Anemia, there's things about me you don't know

Anemia, anemia, anemia, anemia...
