

Keep You Company

Sincere Engineer

I'm driving down your street
Cause I feel lonely
I hear you laughing at me
If only

Chasing the sunset makes me nostalgic
I wanna be a kid again
Maybe my heart won't beat out of my chest
But I'm yelling out to you with all my breath

If you're lonely
Let me keep you company

I'm down your street
I'm going slowly
I see you staring at me
If only

I guess it's just that I keep trying to forget
It was so much easier back then
Maybe my mind won't keep losing itself
And I'm telling this to you with all that's left

And I tried
And I tried
I thought by now I'd have it all figured out
I flew too close to the sun
And now I'm burnt out

If you're lonely
Let me keep you company
I'm so lonely
Can I keep you company?
