

Too Good for a Bad Thing

Sinead Harnett

Coz I only love you when you're gone
And I only care when you don't pick up the phone
Don't feel anything 'til you're mad
Then I want your lips, your forgiving kiss, oh I must be sick

And I know my actions' chipping away
Like a stone in the cold that's caught in a wave
So it's time that I let you go
And it's time that I let you know

You're just too good
I'm only gonna let you down
I'm only gonna let you down
You're just too good
I'm only gonna let you down
Finally I get you now, you're a little too good for a bad thing

And I didn't mean to lead you on
No it wasn't my intention I didn't even mention I was strong
So the history's repeating itself
Coz mama didn't teach me, love never came easy, so I was told

And I know my actions' chipping away
Like a stone in the cold that's caught in a wave
So it's time that I let you go
And it's time that I let you know

You're just too good
I'm only gonna let you down
I'm only gonna let you down
You're just too good
I'm only gonna let you down
Finally I get you now, you're a little too good for a bad thing

You're just a little too good

You're just too good
I'm only gonna let you down
I'm only gonna let you down
You're just too good
I'm only gonna let you down
Finally I get you now, you're a little too good for a bad thing
