

It's maybe 'cause when you wake up
You ought to get enough
You talk big and you lie
And how you took her from behind
Just to set you off
'Come on now lady, cry'

It's maybe 'cause when you go out
The sport is 'seduce' again
You make a bet but in vain
And how you show off your chest
You work out but instead
You need a gym for your brains

No one needs your kind
You phoney superman
You're just a muscular ken
You're hunting down an innocent plastic girl
To play with in your dull legoland

Going up and boom!
Lightin'up the room
Saying you are cool
Acting like a fool

It's maybe 'cause when you wake up
You ought to get enough
You talk big and you lie
And how you took her from behind
Just to set you off
'Come on now lady, cry'

No one needs your kind
You phoney superman
You're just a fisher-price fack
Living in a pokemon-vibe
Collecting nudy cards
Come on now macho die!

Going up and boom!
Lightin'up the room
Saying you are cool
And acting like a fool

Going up and boom!
You're lightin'up
You're breaking up
You're breaking every rule
Going up and boom!
You're lightin'up the room
You're saying you are cool
But acting like a fool
