

expired!

SION

Baby, why'd you breach the sign
Didn't know that my decline's
In your palm
How am I the one reliable
To validate your life
If I'm down

A lot of people around here
Taking advantage of my innocence
All ready to get inside here
Picking the blossom
And leaving the root to death
Too much intention
But none of it pulls me out

It's a shame
You would dream
That I have changed and
Left you all behind
Think it's fate
If you say
That growing up is not a part of life

Should I set myself on fire
I just wonder why my warmth
Ain't enough
You get mad when I stay quiet
Then proceed to just shut down
When you're done

A lot of people around here
Taking advantage of my innocence
All ready to get inside here
Picking the blossom
And leaving the root to death
You're so obsessed with used to be's
But I'm just scrambling to Keep up with what I'm now
Well good luck
With you and your next disdain

It's a shame
It's a shame
You would dream
That I have changed and
Left you all behind
Think it's fate
If you say
That growing up is not a part of life
Shame!
You would claim
That I have changed and
Think it's fate
If you say
