SION

Tell me a lie I can believe
I wanna be a fool, but you're not making it easy for me
I shouldn't have loved
I should have known that all these broken pieces hurt
(Na-na-na-na-na, they hurt, na-na-na-na-a)

Tell me without looking down your feet
You say it's the best for me, but I'm bleeding why don't you see
I feel drained of all those extraordinary couples
Loving each other like I never have done

No, no, no, no
How could you be in love while I'm
So, so, so, so
Hurting, bleeding
Dying of our relationships and troubles that are painted in red colors
Oh, please die

Tell me a lie I can believe
Cause everything you say right now seems like gibberish to me
Are you afraid that I would harm you if you tell me you would leave
(Na-na-na-na-na, oh leave, na-na-na-na-a)

Tell me a lie for my relief
Could you stop being ruthless stepping right onto my deepest points
I feel drained of all those extraordinary couples
Loving each other like I never have done

No, no, no, no
How could you be in love while I'm
So, so, so, so
Hurting, bleeding
Dying of our relationships and troubles that are painted in red colors
Oh, please die

You shouldn't have lied if you don't know how
You shouldn't have cried if you don't know why
You shouldn't have died inside of your fool
You shouldn't have lied if your love was so

You shouldn't have lied if you don't know how
You shouldn't have cried if you don't know why
You shouldn't have died inside of your fool
You shouldn't have lied if your love was so true

No, no, no, no
How could you be in love while I'm
So, so, so, so
Hurting, bleeding
Dying of our relationships and troubles that are painted in red colors
Oh, please die
