

O.o

SION

You lost what I believe in
You lost what I believe in

Drawing blueprints inside my head to make me grow
All these grown-up souls hypnotizing my soul
I got no time to comply with all these norms
That keep turnin' my system off to switch my core
Tell me, is it really worth the effort?
To be told and to serve
All this shit that isn't my way?

(Giving up on me and throwing it all away)
Look at all these fuckers be trying to reach the head
And I don't know what is the price for all this shit
Tell me, God
Do you have a clue than mind to speak
We are waiting for answers
Does this all really even matter?
Oh please

You lost what I believe in
You lost what I believe has changed my life
And you want me to forget it
O.o

You lost what I believe in
Forgot that you believed it once like I
Will I be like you sometime?
Tired of taking orders
Walking paths they walked before
What if our destinations different
You won't care and you won't know

All of these delusional beliefs
Force us to leave
(The scene)
Quit handing me these instructions
Too much pressure inside this capsule of isolation
Oh, I'm fed up of fighting
Heads putrefied, please
What is the point of destruction of potential
In exchange of your control
Oh, no

You lost what I believe in
You lost what I believe in

You lost what I believe in
You lost what I believe has changed my life
And you want me to forget it
O.o

You lost what I believe in
Forgot that you believed it once like I
Will I be like you sometime?
