

That's Why I Love You

SiR

Doesn't it feel like this could be real life
If we have something to prove
Life would be normal, dinner formal
I could be happy with you
Primitive passion, human reactions
Puttin' it all on the line
This could be real life
Why do I feel like, we would be wastin' our time?

See, it's the same thing, no rules
Same rhythm, new blues
Same love but this time it really ain't love
No reason, no rhyme
No speakin' our mind
No war, that isn't what we came for

I never wondered what this could be
I just fuck you and leave
You never wanted nothing from me
I just fuck you and leave
We don't ever come to agree
I just fuck you and leave, yeah
There ain't really nothing to see
That's why I love you

Couldn't you picture us giving into love
Breakin' down all of my walls
You would be faithful, honest and grateful
Probably answer whenever I call
I couldn't handle being this loyal
Unintentionally break us apart
Nor could measure the level of pressure
I be under, protectin' your heart

See, it's the same thing, new rules
Same rhythm, new blues
Same love but this time it really ain't love
No reason, no rhyme
No speakin' our mind
No war, that isn't what we came for

I never wondered what this could be
I sit on it and leave
You never wanted nothing from me
I sit on it and leave
We don't ever come to agree
I just sit on it and leave
There ain't really nothing to see
That's why I love you

We would be more if I could deal with the pain (But I can't)
Survive another tumble down lovers lane (We remain)
The brightest coloring, an ocean of grey
Ain't the same if I can't, ain't the same if you stay
What we were doing wouldn't make it okay
(But how) Could it be better when we're makin' a wave
Don't want your heart if you can take it away

Is it better or fair when there's nothing to say, yeah

I never wondered what this could be (I never wondered what)

I just fuck you and leave

You never wanted nothing from me (Oh, oh)

I just fuck you and leave

We don't ever come to agree

I just fuck you and leave, yeah

There ain't really nothing to see
