

Tricky

SiR

Tricky, this thing called love
Just enough will leave you tipsy
You'll fall if you have too much

Shouldn't go any further
Should've left it alone, it alone
Believe me, I'm certain
Some lessons ain't worth learning
I hope that you never know what I know
We need to let it go
But if you don't wanna leave
I'mma give you what you think you need
Cause that's what I'm here for
We can begin with a taste
Move it along at a steady pace
But you better remember
There is a limit
It's good when you're in it, but it's...

Tricky, this thing called love
Just enough will leave you tipsy
You'll fall if you have too much

I been here before
I was you, and you were someone else
You were so beautiful
I was so innocent
And I know that you were there to help
So I decided to let you in Well, at the time, I believed, you gotta mean it when you say
Nothing could really go wrong, my heart is strong
And you ain't even trying to break it but, you wasn't playing f air
And I didn't know the game
Now I'm just scared, that I never cared
And we may end up the same, ain't it...

Tricky, this thing called love
Just enough will leave you tipsy
You'll fall if you have too much

One shot is all you get