

Hymn To Winter

Sissel

Deep is the darkness that falls down on me Long is the long night 'til morning will be Bright be the north star to shine constantly 'Til winter brings you home safely to me

Blessed be the west wind Blessed be the wild 'fall Blessed be the ocean to carry you home Blessed be cold winter, its storm and its sea Blessed be the true love that brings you to me

Still is the valley, no bell to be ringing Silent the harsh frost that crushes the tree Frozen the heart with no song to be singing 'Til winter brings you home safely to me

Blessed be the west wind Blessed be the wild 'fall Blessed be the ocean to carry you home Blessed be cold winter, its storm and its sea Blessed be the true love that brings you to me

Deep is the darkness that falls down on me Long is the long night 'til morning will be Bright be the north star to shine constantly 'Til winter brings you home safely to me

Blessed be the west wind Blessed be the wild 'fall Blessed be the ocean to carry you home Blessed be cold winter, its storm and its sea Blessed be the true love that brings you to me
