

Almost Broken

Sister Hazel

Why do you want to do this?
Do you always have to win?
I'm not saying that it's over
But you got me questioning
If you keep chipping away baby
Knocking pieces off my pride
There will be nothing left to save

Well, I'm almost broken
Barely keep this love alive
Going through the motions
Running out of things to try
Don't want to surrender
Don't want goodbye
But I'm missing that light in your eyes
I'm not done hoping
Baby I'm almost broken

Sometimes I get the feeling
It's not me you're fighting with
Some whisper from your past
And I'm here paying for his sins

I'm not strong enough to save us both
I can't do this on my own
And only so long I'll hold on

And I'm almost broken
Barely keep this love alive
Going through the motions
Running out of things to try
Don't want to surrender
Don't want goodbye
But I'm missing that light in your eyes
I'm not done hoping
Baby I'm almost broken

And only your kiss can heal me
Show me it isn't too late
Cause baby you don't have to convince me to stay
Don't want to surrender
Don't want goodbye
Without you this ain't much of a life
I'm not done hoping
Baby I'm almost broken
