

Fire

Sister Hazel

You're stuck on the front line, of the war on the inside
Fighting yourself
You've been running ragged, jaded and jagged
And broken as hell
Bought your freedom with borrowed innocence
Now your wanting it back

You've been through the fire
And I know you're tired
But don't give up yet
Just keep holding on
There's life just beyond
Your bleeding edge
So don't give up yet

You would climb higher, but that razor wire
Has taught you so well
Safer to stay down with your heart on lock down all by yourself
If you want to live, something's got to give
You're gonna have to let go

You've been through the fire
And I know you're tired
But don't give up yet
Just keep holding on
There's life just beyond
Your bleeding edge
So don't give up yet

You've been through the fire
And I know you're tired
But don't give up yet
Just keep holding on
There's life just beyond
Your bleeding edge

You've been through the fire
And I know you're tired
No just keep holding on
There's life just beyond
Your bleeding edge

Yeah, you've been through the fire
Yeah, but don't give up yet
