

Breathe

Six60

I know you're scared to dive in
Deep when the water's rising
Wait for the perfect timing
But, you'll never find it

When it all disappears and the moment is gone
And you're asking yourself, why did I wait so long?
When you don't wanna be so lost and alone
With nothing to hold on
Nothing to hold on to

So, you drift between the lines
And you just start to fade from view, oh
Just give me one sign if you want me to rescue you, oh

I want to look inside
Find all the things you're hiding
Don't let the time keep passing
'Cause you can't rewind it

When it all disappears and the moment is gone
And you're asking yourself, why did I wait so long?
When you don't wanna be so lost and alone
With nothing to hold on
Nothing to hold on to

So, you drift between the lines
And you just start to fade from view, oh
Just give me one sign if you want me to rescue you, oh

I know it's hard to see
When you sink so deep
Grab a hold of me
And I'll help you breathe

I know it's hard to see
When you sink so deep
Grab a hold of me
And I'll help you breathe

So, you drift between the lines
And you just start to fade from view, oh
Just give me one sign if you want me to rescue you, oh

I know it's hard to see
When you sink so deep
Grab a hold of me
And I'll help you breathe

I know it's hard to see
When you sink so deep
Grab a hold of me
And I'll help you breathe
