Hold Up

Six60

So girl what's the hold up
Start zippin' up we better be on our way now
So why won't you show up
Start zippin' up we better be on our way now

Step up in the bar
Why don't you pour me a brew
Cause I know that in the morning
I'll be feelin' blue
You know I don't mind, no I don't care
Cause I know that tonight
Well I'll be going home with you

See I, don't even know your name
So why we've got to play these games

So girl what's the hold up
Start zippin' up we better be on our way now
So why won't you show up
Start zippin' up we better be on our way now

So girl what's the hold up
Oh yeah
So why won't you show up
Yeah oh

See I, don't even know your name
So why we've got to play these games

I'm walkin 'round the bar
Tryin' to catch my feet
I had too many brews, ain't too good for me
I walk around the color
Who I happen to see
Well it's you at the bar lookin' back at me
It's the girl with no name starring back at me
But I don't fucking care, I'm too pissed to think
Well next thing you know she's walking home with me
I hope this kind of shit happens every week

Girl I, don't even know your name
So why we've got to play these games
