Moving On

Sixpence None The Richer

It has gotten to my head. Permeates the path I tread. But I tread, I'm moving on in a new and happy song. I can sing about the night, how my tunnel without light Led me to the other side where the sky is blue.

It's all I can do to not let them ruin me. I will not let them ruin me. I will not let them ruin me again.

There is fire inside the tree. Flames of knowing kissing me. I have waited long to see a sign from you.

It's all I can do to not let them ruin me. I will not let them ruin me. I will not let them ruin me again.