

Restless Babe

Skaters

Such ordinary people
(That's nice)
That just soak up
Between the daily drool
Restless babe
On the avenue

You can run before you crawl
With those legs
It ain't a thing at all
Restless babe
On the avenue

And now I know it's so dumb
Waiting by myself at the liquor store
Watching the crowds role out
Their passing face
(As she passes by)
Wondering to myself
If you'll stop to ask the time
And then you pass
That daydream fades
(And now it fades)
And now I know it's so dumb

Where you're going no one knows

On a summer day
Advil and [?]
Restless babe
On the avenue
Restless babe
On the avenue
Restless babe
On the avenue

And now I know it's so dumb
Waiting by myself at the liquor store
Watching the crowds role out
Their passing face
(As she passes by)
Wondering to myself
If you'll stop to ask the time
And then you pass
That daydream fades
(And now it fades)
And now I know it's so dumb
Now I know it's so dumb
Now I know it's so dumb
Now I know it's so dumb
