

It Really Doesn't Matter At All

Skeeter Davis

If all at once it seems the world has turned from you
If life has found it's way to cloud your skies of blue When darkness seems to hide the light nothing ever turns out right
And tomorrows dream have up and gone their way.

If everything you've ever dreamed or hoped to be
Is gone and dreaded fears become reality You'll find if someone loves you who's standing there beside you
With open arms to help you when you fall
It really doesn't matter at all.

If someone loves and needs you the world can go it's way If someone whispers I love you who cares if skies are gray
And if there's someone beside you to help you when you fall
It really doesn't matter at all.

It really doesn't matter at all...
