

Sleepless Cadavers

Skeletal Remains

Decades ago at a certain point of time
An experiment was done that haunted minds
Certain people were used for the questioning of others
Answer the questions of the minds that once wondered Thrown into a chamber trapped and observed
With no way to be seen but to only be heard
The use of experimental gas based stimulant
Which could eradicate the need for sleep in humans

Entombed in this oversized cell, my body begins to react
Hearing voices all around me as the others start to crack
Going insane from the toxic inhalation
Sleepless nights starts its alteration
Excessive paranoia begins to kick in Voices in my head start to deform me from within

As the hours and days settle in the prisoners dwell in their minds
Days keep passing still in full conscious they commence to rot from inside
Victims begin to self immolate they now turn on each other
As the savage feast inflates their bloody chunks lay scattered

Skin and muscle ripped apart exposing human anatomy
Spreading blood and guts across my vision dead soldiers lay beside me

As I'm being torn
Growling voices mutter
We no longer wish to be freed
