Gone Away

Skip The Use

Hey, you know what I'm gonna say
Thing have changed, desire's gona away
And I know what you're gonna say
There's something wrong inside me

I'm out of breath from giving chase
There are too many lies, too much pain
Angry words beat around my ears
Sometimes love brings too many fears

She runs, she runs away, so far from me
She runs, she runs away, so far from me

Tears are running out and it's too late
'Cos we lost too much time made too much hate
No need for words it's on your face
I'm losing myself once again

She runs, she runs away, so far from me
She runs, she runs away, so far from me
