

And So

Skold

Are you prepared to see the light
It's all for you
Will you give in without a fight
It's all for you

One kiss is all that it will take
They're here for you
The last compromise that you will make
They're here for you

And so the End is Here, often beat but never broken
And so the End is Here, the final chapter reading me
And so the End is Here, I welcome this with arms wide open
And so the End is Here, living someone else's dream

It's time you left it slip away
They're here for you
Nothing ventured nothing gained
They're here for you

Like bleeding water into wine
It's all for you
You know it's time to cross the line
It's all for you

And so the End is Here, often beat but never broken
And so the End is Here, the final chapter reading me
And so the End is Here, I welcome this with arms wide open
And so the End is Here, Living someone else's dream

Just a flash away, your future come today and you
You'll find a better way, just a flash away

Just a flash away, your future come today and you
You'll find a better way, just a flash away

Just a flash away, your future come today and you
You'll find a better way, just a flash away
