

Better The Devil

Skold

Under my boot. every snow flake looks the same
Beneath the scars there's an empty spell cast in vain
Inside those walls. the little voices know my name
Below black stars these old dirty streets have no shame

Tear my soul apart. drown me in your sea of darkness
I'll be your lucky star if you promise that you'll never let me go
Better the devil you know. better the devil you know

The squeaky wheel is the weakest link in the chain
I see the cut but i still can't feel the fucking pain
Between these walls there's a tiny chance i could refrain
Below black stars an even smaller chance i will complain

Tear my soul apart. drown me in your sea of darkness
I'll be your lucky star if you promise that you'll never let me go to hell
With nothing left to show. set me on fire and revel in the glow

Tear my soul apart. drown me in your sea of darkness
I'll be your lucky star if you promise that you'll never let me
go
Better the devil you know. better the devil you know
