

Never Is Now

Skold

The road less traveled, stoney ground
Once you go you can't turn around
No refuge from the bitter cold
You face the wind and kiss the crow

So wipe those tears now, you gave it all,
you know for whom the bell will toll
You did your part now, you played your role
This is the end of the rabbit hole

You fall from grace on hallowed ground
Your disciples can't be found
Broken legs can't hold much weight
Your resurrection came too late

So wipe those tears now, you gave it all
You know for whom the bell will toll
You did your part now, you played your role
This is the end of the rabbit hole

Never is now
Never is now

Never is now
Never is now

Way too little, too fucking late
Never is now
How fucking long did you think
I was going to wait?
Never

Never is now
Never is now
Never is now

Never is now
