

This Is the End

Skold

Try to stay away from me
Try to stay away from me

You will find patience in the dark, the cold and lonely
The broken concrete and the shards of glass

People always give themselves away
Turn your back and hear the shadows pray
Disaster's just a click away

None of this will bother me, I've been around the block you see
I have this lack of empathy 'cuz this is, this is the end

Try to stay away from me - this is, this is the end
Try to stay away from me

You will find solitude in pain, so push the limits
The twisted metal and the blood of Cain

People living in a fairytale,
The blackened fields where the guilty lay
Disaster's just a click away

None of this will bother me, I've been around the block you see
I have this lack of empathy 'cuz this is, this is
Try to stay away from me, there's not an ounce of good in me
I'll fuck you before you can fuck me, this is, this is the end

This is, this is the end, this is, this is the end

Try to stay away from me
Try to stay away from me
Try to stay away from me
Try to stay away from me

None of this will bother me, I've been around the block you see
I have this lack of empathy 'cuz this is, this is
Try to stay away from me, there's not an ounce of good in me
I'll fuck you before you can fuck me, this is, this is the end
