

Oh look what you've done
You'd better believe that I'll be showing up
Look what you've started now
There's nowhere to turn
There's nowhere left to hide

And my blood runs cold
As you lose control
Now look what you've done
What have you done

You're onto me, I'm onto you

You ain't never getting by me
Bring it on cause I feel like fighting
You ain't never gonna break me
Bring it on cause I feel like
I've been secretly out to try this
Bring it on cause I feel like
Sirens seeking you out in silence
Bring it on cause I feel like

You're onto me, I'm onto you

If we could go back
I would've tried to tell you how it felt
Crimson and black
We could've stopped the world
Before it cracked

But my blood went cold
As you lost control
Now look what you've done
What have you done

You're onto me, I'm onto you

You ain't never getting by me
Bring it on cause I feel like fighting
You ain't never gonna break me
Bring it on cause I feel like
I've been secretly out to try this
Bring it on cause I feel like
Sirens seeking you out in silence
Bring it on cause I feel like

Every minute, every heartbeat
I've been searching
I'm searching my mind is
So heavy, so deep I can't find it
At the bottom of it all
I've been looking for a way in
But I find myself still at the gate and
I'm patiently, painfully waiting
