

Young Man

Skrizzly Adams

Hear satan laugh
Cause he thinks that he's right
But you'll never back down
You'll just put up your fists and say bring on the fight

If you take a fall
Let em laugh if they might
Cause when things fall apart
They're all gonna bark
But you're gonna bight

Young man
Young man
Yea you're just old enough
To hurt when it's rough
And when things fall apart
Yea you just toughen up

Young man
Young man
Yea you're just old enough
To hurt when it's rough
And when things fall apart
Yea you just toughen up
Yea you just toughen up

Young man
I know everything's wrong
And the chords gonna clash
With the words they wrote down
But you'll sing along

Let em all talk
Cause you're bigger than that
And the world's gonna shake
From the moves that you make
While they're falling flat

Young man
Young man
Yea you're just old enough
To hurt when it's rough
And when things fall apart
Yea you just toughen up

Young man
Young man
Yea you're just old enough
To hurt when it's rough
And when things fall apart
Yea you just toughen up
Yea you just toughen up

Young man
Young man
Yea you'll never back down
You'll just put up your fist

Yea you'll never back down
Yea they're all gonna bark
When things fall apart
But you're gonna
Yea you're gonna
You're gonna bite

Young man
Young man
To hurt when it's rough

Young man
