

Strings

SkyDxddy

You made me feel so cool
So accepted and loved
Something I didn't get enough of
But you made me the fool
Just a kid with bad judgment
Just a kid holding grudges

You amplified my emotions
And made me isolate myself
You made me think there was just you
And nobody else
I can't believe I fell for
All your lies and all your bullshit
I didn't see the strings attached
To our so called friendship

Does it feel good to know you had me?
That the spell you casted worked?
And did ever occur to you
That I would end up hurt?
That I would wake up one day
And know what this really was?
That my body would shake
When I remember your touch?

You amplified my emotions
And made me isolate myself
You made me think there was just you
And nobody else
I can't believe I fell for
All your lies and all your bullshit
I didn't see the strings attached
To our so called friendship

You made me feel like I was walking on air
But I was far too young to know what motives were there

You amplified my emotions
And made me isolate myself
You made me think there was just you
And nobody else
I can't believe I fell for
All your lies and all your bullshit
I didn't see the strings attached
To our so called friendship

I can't believe I fell for
All your lies and all your bullshit
I didn't see the strings attached
I didn't see the strings attached
