

Out of Time

Skyharbor

I'm on a mission that's never ending
Unwavering state of mind
Chemical thoughts won't stop the bleeding
We're led by the blind

Can't stand to fall in line as you lay your finger on the trigger
Echo the paradox of your empty lies into the ether
Circle like moths to a flame
Now it's time for a change with the fault lines shifting
You are the solace I found inside

All out of time, but we won't be left behind
Run and hide again
Tear it down instead
Till there's nothing left inside

Echoing chaos if ever pressing
Threading needles through the lies
With so much loss and second guessing
What a shame we closed our eyes

Can't stand to fall in line as you lay your finger on the trigger
Echo the paradox of your empty lies into the ether
Circle like moths to a flame
Now it's time for a change with the fault lines shifting
You are the solace I found inside

All out of time, but we won't be left behind
Run and hide again
Tear it down instead

All out of time, but we won't be left behind
Run and hide again
Tear it down instead

I'm done waiting for you
With so much to lose
Confiscating the truth
Embers burning through
With our fates aligned
Can't be left behind

The silence will break us all
And steal away our light
Each hour the end is calling
Together we survive

The silence will break us all
And steal away our light
Each hour the end is calling
Together we survive

All out of time, but we won't be left behind
Run and hide again
Tear it down instead

Now your time's up

Now your time's up
